Join PSAMA and Edelman on 12/9 on the Power of the Earned Brand

Join PSAMA and Edelman for an exciting new presentation on Innovation and the Earned Brand; a global study of consumer attitudes toward brand innovation. New disrupters like Uber, Airbnb, and other businesses have fundamentally changed the way we consume products and services even beyond their own sectors. What is their secret?

As marketers and communicators, learn what disruptive businesses and brands have done to reimagine categories, products, and services. This presentation will uncover the findings of Edelman's unique study, exploring consumer's real feelings about innovation and new relationships with brands. The presentation takes a deep dive into consumer concerns, reveals four Earned Brand behaviors to address needs around innovation, and proposes a new model of marketing based on action, not messaging. Successful brands that innovate well aren't what they used to be; they create human relationships, they have many living qualities - they are the Earned Brands. Don't miss the premier of Edelman's first ever Innovation and Earned Brand Study in Seattle!

Be a Mentor!

We need about 10-15 more chapter members to mentor PRSSA students from Central Washington University, Seattle University, UW and our newest chapter, Western Washington University. We expect the largest student turnout ever for this year's Mentors Program, which begins Jan. 1. As a mentor, you provide ongoing guidance and coaching to one student for a year, for as little as one hour per month. Mentors should be PRSA members with at least one year of PR experience. Please contact Catherine Hinrichsen, APR, by Dec. 20 at chinrichsen@seanet.com.

Jacquie Coe, APR and Julia Leitman, met up at the PRSA Puget Sound Annual Meeting. Jacquie was Julia's mentor when Julia was a senior at Seattle University two years ago. Julia now works at Edelman.
